

Master of Public Policy

Program Student Learning Outcomes

Students graduating with a Master of Public Policy will be able to:

- Lead and manage in public policymaking and governance
- Apply, participate in and contribute to the public policy process
- Create and apply methods and tools to analyze, synthesize, think critically, solve problems and make decisions across a broad set of policy issues
- Articulate a public service perspective to engaging in public policy work
- Analyze the Alaska and Arctic public policy and economic contexts and how to work successfully within them
- Communicate and interact productively with diverse communities and institutions