Master of Public Policy

Program Student Learning Outcomes

Students graduating with a Master of Public Policy will be able to:

• Lead and manage in public policymaking and governance
• Apply, participate in and contribute to the public policy process
• Create and apply methods and tools to analyze, synthesize, think critically, solve problems and make decisions across a broad set of policy issues
• Articulate a public service perspective to engaging in public policy work
• Analyze the Alaska and Arctic public policy and economic contexts and how to work successfully within them
• Communicate and interact productively with diverse communities and institutions