

Occupational Endorsement Certificate in Conservation Ecology

Program Student Learning Outcomes

Students graduating with an Occupational Endorsement Certificate in Conservation Ecology will be able to:

- Describe and apply basic tenets of conservation ecology and climate change
- Design and implement a research project to examine applied ecology in the field
- Describe current issues associated with ecological conservation in Alaska
- Demonstrate common field and lab skills used by conservation ecologists