Program Student Learning Outcomes

Students graduating with an Occupational Endorsement Certificate in Conservation Ecology will be able to:

• Describe and apply basic tenets of conservation ecology and climate change
• Design and implement a research project to examine applied ecology in the field
• Describe current issues associated with ecological conservation in Alaska
• Demonstrate common field and lab skills used by conservation ecologists