

Bachelor of Science in Psychology

Program Student Learning Outcomes

Students graduating with a Bachelor of Science in Psychology will be able to:

- Possess a broad knowledge of contemporary psychology.
- Have experience conducting psychological research.
- Be able to demonstrate skills in research design and data analysis.
- Be prepared for advanced study in psychology and related disciplines.