Bachelor of Arts in Journalism and Public Communications

Program Student Learning Outcomes

Students graduating with a Bachelor of Arts in Journalism and Public Communications will be able to:

• Demonstrate an understanding of the history and the role of journalism and public communications in society;
• Demonstrate an understanding of diversity in a global society in relationship to communications;
• Demonstrate an understanding of the ethical concepts, legal rights and responsibilities, considerations and practices that guide public communications and research in the field;
• Gather, critically evaluate, and synthesize information from various sources;
• Demonstrate the ability to think independently and evaluate their own work and the work of others for accuracy, fairness, clarity, style and correctness;
• Communicate effectively in a variety of contexts and formats;
• Apply basic numerical and statistical concepts and methods appropriate for the communications professions.