

Bachelor of Science in Health Sciences

---

Program Student Learning Outcomes

Graduates of the BSHS Health Educator track will be able to:

- Assess individual and/or community needs and/or capacity for health promotion.
- Plan effective health promotion programs and interventions for target populations.
- Implement health promotion interventions.
- Evaluate health promotion programs and/or interventions.
- Coordinate resources and relationships with stakeholders and partners.
- Communicate evidence-based health information effectively.
- Articulate the role of public health in inter-professional healthcare teams.